On The High Seas During Naval Cruise

Word was received today that Robert K. Summit, midshipman first class is on cruise aboard the USS Wisconsin learning how to become an officer in the U. S. Navy. When he finishes his course at Stanford University he will be commissioned as an ensign.

Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Summit, 210 Crest View Dr. The father is on the faculty of the Palm Springs Unified School District as director of guidance and child welfare.

Too Much "Fun" Lands In Pokey

Monroe Boston Strause was free on $25 bail pending his trial before Judge Eugene E. Theriault on charges of disorderly conduct and under the influence of intoxicating liquor when arrested at one of the night spots in the Village Saturday night.

Chief Justice Gibson to Study Need of Desert Court in October

Chief Justice Philip Gibson of the California State Supreme Court will personally investigate the need of a fourth superior court to be located in this part of Riverside County.

This announcement by Judge Eugene E. Theriault, president of the newly organized Desert Bar Association, stated that Justice Gibson would be in Palm Springs in October.

Judge Theriault said that the proposed visit was an acceptance of an invitation sent to Judge Gibson by the bar association.

The invitation to Judge Gibson, also pointed out the urgent need of an additional court in Riverside county to be located in the desert area in view of the congested court calendar existing for a long time in Riverside.

The president of the bar association also reported that the Eastern half of Riverside county pays 40 per cent of all county taxes as well as an equal percentage of voters residing in that area.

Rains May Cause $1,000,000 Loss In Date Crop

Heavy rains that have fallen in the Coachella Valley date growing district may play havoc with the harvest this fall.

Date growers in the area are fearful that the $5,000,000 annual crop in dates may be damaged by 25 per cent at least, comparing the situation this year with that of 1946 when an equal amount of rain fell.

Most feared by the date growers is a seige of hot weather that might follow the rains causing dates to develop mould or "sour" on the trees.

The loss, if predictions come true, would amount to more than $1,000,000.

Maurea Solt, manager of the Date Advisory Board of the State Department of Agriculture, sustained this prediction and said that only following cool weather would save the crop from damage.

"If the weather remains cool no harm can be expected", Solt said.

He said that there are 5,013 acres of land upon which date trees are growing in the Coachella Valley.

"The weather so far this year is comparable to that of 1946 when date growers sustained a loss of 25 per cent in harvest."

Police In Search For Patton Inmate

Police throughout the state were searching this week for Otto Goldin, former resident here, who escaped from Patton, State Insane Asylum, last Saturday.

The all-points bulletin seeking his apprehension warned that Goldin "is considered dangerous."

Local police found no clue to his whereabouts in the Village and he is not suspected of being here, it was reported.

Herrera Returns From Vacation; Tells Why And Where He Went

Officer John Herrera recently returned to duty at the Palm Springs Police Department from annual vacation.

"Where did you spend your vacation?" he was asked.

"Oh, I went north on my vacation," replied Herrera. "I traveled all the way to Banning."

"Find My Purse"

School Attendance In Village Area to Break Record

There were more people living in Palm Springs and surrounding resort area than ever before in history.

This was indicated in peak season school attendance figures just released by Dr. Arthur G. Hoff, superintendent of the Palm Springs Unified School District.

He also predicted that peak enrollment for the school year of 1951-52 would be higher than last year when attendance at both elementary and high schools amounted to 1604.

"High school attendance may be the same as it was last year," Dr. Hoff estimated.

Peak season school enrollment during 1949-50 was 1610 pupils at both grade and high schools in the unified school district, the record revealed.

May Complete Sale Of Colonial House To R. Howard Today

If Transaction Completed Buyer Plans Extensive Improvements and Additions

Robert S. (Bob) Howard, member of the Los Angeles automobile Howards, is expected to conclude arrangements for the purchase of the Colonial House today.

Although the transaction has not gone into escrow A. R. Simon, local attorney for Howard here, yesterday stated that unless some unforeseen obstacle arises, Bob Howard will be the new owner of the famous Village Hotel.

Judge Eugene E. Theriault, attorney for Mrs. Thelma Davis, speaking in behalf of his client, said he was given to believe that Howard fully intends to purchase the hotel but at a late hour yesterday the sales agreement had not been signed.

"I am told that the signed agreement will be in my hands today," Judge Theriault said.

Both attorneys refused to reveal the sale price of the property to state only that "if sold Howard will pay in excess of $250,000 for the hotel."

A Los Angeles realty firm represented Howard in the proposed purchase.

A radio report emanating from Los Angeles erroneously stated that the Colonial House had been sold to Howard for $500,000.

Until a little more than a week ago, Basil Brewer, newspaper publisher and winter guest here, had entered into an escrow agreement for the purchase of the hotel but withdrew from the transaction, it was reported in reliable quarters.

Howard, if and when he comes into possession of the Colonial House, plans extensive improvements, Simon said.

"My client does not know now whether he will personally operate the swanky cocktail lounge and dining room or lease this part of the hotel's facility to some one else."

Howard is reported to have left Palm Springs Wednesday afternoon for Los Angeles and was expected to return the sign-

Funeral

Rites Today for Baby Accident Victim

One week ago Mr. and Mrs. John L. Long, and their nine-month old baby John Jr. were joyfully bound on an automobile trip to the east coast.

Near Blythe, the Long automobile figured in a three car collision.

Today at 10 a.m. parents and friends will listen to Rev. James Blackstone Jr. pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church of the faith at the funeral of tiny John Jr., who was reported to have been instantly killed in the accident.

Services will be held in Weibel's Mortuary with interment in the Palm Springs cemetery.

Before Rain

Citizen Ordered to Change Birthday Suit

The weather was hot before the rains came and all of the residents out Sunny Dunes rd. endured it with their clothes on with the exception of one neighbor.

When the police heard about the citizen who walked about his home, on the outside, attired in his birthday clothes, Officer John Herrera was sent out to investigate.

According to the officer's report, he found that the complaint bore every credence of truth.

The hot-weather nudist was ordered to take the climate like a man on the outside or he would land on the inside looking out and with all his clothes on at all times.

Recall Injunction Continued

Judge Gabbert to Hear Case After Sept. 15

The injunction granted City Councilman Jerry Nathanson was postponed Monday morning at the request of City Attorney Roy Colegate.

Judge John G. Gabbert granted the continuance when Colegate pleaded that his main defense witness, Dean Pickell was not in court.

The city attorney explained that when Judge Gabbert issued a temporary injunction order restraining the city of Palm Springs from setting the date for the Nathanson recall election, Pickell was away on vacation.

The Superior Court jurist set the hearing for the first court-free day between September 15 and October 1.

By that time Pickell is expected to be back in Palm Springs and will be served with a subpoena to appear in court.

Judge Gabbert will then decide whether to make the temporary injunction permanent, thereby killing the recall move or decide for Palm Springs in which event City Council will be forced to set a date for the election, 40 days from the date of their next regular meeting.

Pickell is accused in Nathanson's complaint of swearing to a false affidavit. The affidavit in question was attached to two supplementary petitions containing 53 names seeking the recall of Nathanson.

Specifically, Nathanson charges that Pickell was not present when the 53 names were inscribed on the petitions as his sworn affidavits contend.

The Councilman declared that he has sworn statements from approximately 8 persons who he claims, informed him, that they never saw Pickell at the time they signed the petitions.

"I'm confident that Judge Gabbert will throw the petition out as illegal," declared Nathanson.

Conducting an informal survey among vacationers she encountered on a tour of New England resorts, particularly in New Hampshire and Maine, Mrs. Torgan encountered many families whose holiday plans reflect the natural shift from the one-month summer vacation to the two-trips-a-year pattern, thus assuring a visit to warmer climes during the disagreeable portions of the year in eastern states.

The same attitudes, Mrs. Torgan reports, were noted in conversation with fellow airline passengers she talked to both going to and returning from Providence.

"Barring some jarring upset in international affairs," said Mrs. Torgan, "all signs point to a wonderful winter business for Palm Springs and the desert."

Its Clear

Cecil Robert Jones Is the Brother of Robert Cecil Jones

Published report that Cecil Jones alias Whitey had been nabbed by the FBI as a draft evader was correct in a sense with the exception that it didn't please Cecil Robert Jones, also called Whitey by his friends.

Cecil Robert protested that he has not evaded a draft call but that his brother Robert Cecil is charged with the offense and returned to Phoenix, Arizona.

Now you have it, the facts, Cecil Robert Jones is not Robert Cecil Jones and both with the same nickname.

Why?

Couple Forget Auto Police Want Reason

Police want an answer to this question: Why did Cleora and Donald R. Dunagan, 438 Palm Place, Pomona, park their 1949 Ford Sedan in the rear of Tanner's Auto Livery August 27 without moving it since that day?

Attempt to telephone the couple at their Pomona address proved futile. The telephone company informed the police the Dunagans have no telephone.

Sgt. Bill Lux ordered a special delivery letter posing the question sent to them immediately.

New Season Here to Be As Good As Last Year-Coffman

Base Opinion on Reports By Members Of The American Hotel Association

Baring bad weather, the 1951-52 winter season in Palm Springs will be as good or better than it was during the last season.

This prediction based on reports of travel to summer resorts was made by Earl Coffman, co-owner of the Desert Inn and vice-chairman of the Resorts and Hotels Committee of the American Hotel Association.

Coffman's statement is based on information received from members of his committee and other members of the American Hotel Association operating resort hotels.

"Of Course I'm always optimistic," declared Coffman, "and unless we have bad weather during the winter season, business should measure up to the volume it did last year. It may be better."

HE ADDED that good seasons in Palm Springs are the result of hard work on the part of every businessman in the Village urging vacation minded winter guests to spend time here on the desert.

Citing some of the reports he has received during the summer months pertaining to resort travel, Coffman said:

"Two of the pets was owned by Leo Wilks, 605 Rocca dr. and the other belonged to Blanche Hopkins, who resides across the street."

"Wilks is away on vacation," said Dr. McRory, "He'll be mad when he returns and finds out what happened to his cockers."

This is the first time in many years that a dog poisoner has made an appearance in Palm Springs, records reveal.

STEWART WOODFIELD, owner See NEW SEASON, Page 2

DOG POISONER DESCRIBED BY DR. O. B. McRORY

"No word in the English dictionary can express my contempt of the lowest type of human that will feed a friendly and unsuspecting dog poison."

Dr. O. B. McRory, local veterinarian, used other descriptive adjectives as well in describing the individual, who deliberately poisoned three small dogs, cockers early this week.

The animals were seen by residents in the area an hour before they were found dead," declared Dr. McRory, "so there is no doubt in my mind that a fast acting poison was camouflaged in food fed to them."

Two of the pets was owned by Leo Wilks, 605 Rocca dr. and the other belonged to Blanche Hopkins, who resides across the street.

"Wilks is away on vacation," said Dr. McRory, "He'll be mad when he returns and finds out what happened to his cockers."

This is the first time in many years that a dog poisoner has made an appearance in Palm Springs, records reveal.

Thousands of pictures—movies, color and third-dimension among them—will bring back memories of happy days on the beach at Waikiki or riding in the mountains of Wyoming. When all these people get together in Palm Springs this winter they can describe the thrill of seeing nature's wonders and the remarkable works of man. Their experiences would fill volumes and their ideas on world affairs would vary as greatly as the different kinds of food they tasted. They can tell of many incidents; some tragic but most of them amusing.

Vacationists will bring back thousands of souvenirs—everything from ash trays to expensive paintings; cigars from Havana and tweeds from England; Indian rugs from New Mexico and perfume from Paris. All will have stacks of maps, folders, descriptive literature and picture postcards. Many will have added considerably to their kids, of course, will have picked up as many trinkets hobby collection while most of the ladies will have over-spent the vacation budget on jewelry purchases. The and souvenirs as they can carry, eaten countless hamburgers and consumed enough soft drinks to fill a city reservoir.

In good spirits and good health, out of the rut and with a much less feeling of indispensability these people return to their homes and offices still a little up in the clouds but fit for the tasks that lie ahead.

CARL BARKOW, founder of The Desert Sun which is now in its twenty-fifth year, retires from the newspaper business this week with the announced sale of the Banning Record. He published this newspaper along with the Record for nineteen years during which it grew rapidly with the community and became known as one of the outstanding weekly newspapers of the state. His complete coverage of the news, make-up and large circulation set a high standard for us who have followed him.

Mr. Barkow was always well liked and respected in this community and still has a great many friends here who join us in wishing him, and Mrs. Barkow, much happiness in the years to come doing the things they have looked forward to for many years. At the same time we welcome Mr. and Mrs. Ward J. Risvold new owners of the Banning record into the newspaper business in Riverside county and wish them success.

THE PUBLISHER'S CORNER by OLIVER B. JAYNES

BETWEEN WINTER RESIDENTS and vacationing Villagers, almost every corner of the globe—and all points of interest in this country—will have been visited this summer. From the Jackson Hole country to the Swiss Alps, across the Pacific to Honolulu and the Orient, in London, Paris, New York and Antigua, they could be seen during the summer months enjoying a wide variety of activities and seeing the sights of the world. Jan and George Olman have kept pretty good track of the globe-trotters and postcards from nearby Yellowstone to far-off Holland have expressed the wish that we were there and told of the wonderful times our friends have had climbing mountains, fishing, boating and seeing how other people live. Others enjoyed visiting relatives and friends they haven't seen for years while a few combine business and pleasure to be the exception and make their vacation profitable.

Thousands of pictures—movies, color and third-dimension among them—will bring back memories of happy days on the beach at Waikiki or riding in the mountains of Wyoming. When all these people get together in Palm Springs this winter they can describe the thrill of seeing nature's wonders and the remarkable works of man. ## Sunsuit Fashions Popular

"Fashion Parade" here
Receives Coast Notice

Sunsuit styles for women and walking shorts for men urged during the past two weeks as a must for Villagers drew Pacific Coast attention over the Columbia Broadcasting System the other morning.

The commentator declared that the idea was a good one and was creating considerable attention here.

He was right too.

More and more of the fairer sex have been seen lately attired in fetching sunsuit fashions and more businessmen are showing by their attire that the idea is a good one.

AND ALL OF THIS leads up to the fact that tonight, Friday, Village women, advocates of the style, will have their last chance to prove it publicly by entering the finals in the "Fashion Parade" sponsored by Vic Sudaha, owner of the Palm House.

The winner of the previous Monday night shows will compete in the finals with the winner of tonight's contest.

VALUABLE PRIZES have been awarded the winners so far but those who win Friday night will have the surprise of their lives, according to Vic Sudaha.

"Everybody is welcome to enter the contest," Sudaha said. "It is just a lot of fun, enjoyed by both the spectators and the contestants."

One of the most attractive prizes to be given away tonight will be a beautiful and expensive sunsuit contributed by the Beachcombers.

LADIES you'll gasp at the beauty of this suit and those who know styles claim you will wear it when ever you go shopping.

Let's Write A Letter to Marvin Yager

When the doors of the Nellie Coffman school swing open Sept. 12, Marvin Yager, 13, will not be found behind his desk.

Instead, Marvin will be occupying a bed in the Orthopedic Hospital, 2400 S. Flower St., Los Angeles, sheathed from neck to the bottom of his spine in a heavy, unyielding cast, in a strong, fighting cheerful, bid for life and return to Palm Springs.

Marvin was scheduled to undergo his second spinal operation of the year this week. He's in plenty of pain too, but he knows that all of his agony will pass and the deft hands of the surgeon will make him well again.

He didn't say so, but who isn't glad to get a letter or a post card from a friend?

Let's go students of Nellie Coffman School. The mail man's shoulder's are big and strong.

Mother's "Vacation" Starts Sept. 12, Day School Opens

Mother's in the Village are going to start their "vacations" September 12.

That's the day junior ends his long summer vacation gets his ears and neck scrubbed and mother, with a sigh of relief, packs him off to school.

Its opening day of school for students and prospective ones at the Palm Springs High School, too, Dr. Arthur G. Hoff, superintendent of the Unified School District announced yesterday.

Grammar school students will begin their classes at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Dr. Hoff announced.

The younger tots, who have reached kindergarten age should be registered during the week of September 4 to 7th.

"All pupils planning to attend high school are urged to get their schedules arranged during the week of September 4," Dr. Hoff said. "But all pupils who have not pre-registered, or who did not make out a schedule of subjects last spring should do so between September 4 to 8."

Classes which will begin at the high school and the Nellie N. Coffman school September 12, will last only a half day, it was announced.

Dr. Hoff urged that parents of children of kindergarten age who live south of Ramon rd., should attend the Cahuilla school and those who live north of Ramon rd. should attend the Frances Stevens kindergarten.

"The principals at the Frances Stevens, Cahuilla and Katherine Finchy (North End) schools will be in their offices from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. during the week after Labor Day," Dr. Hoff said.

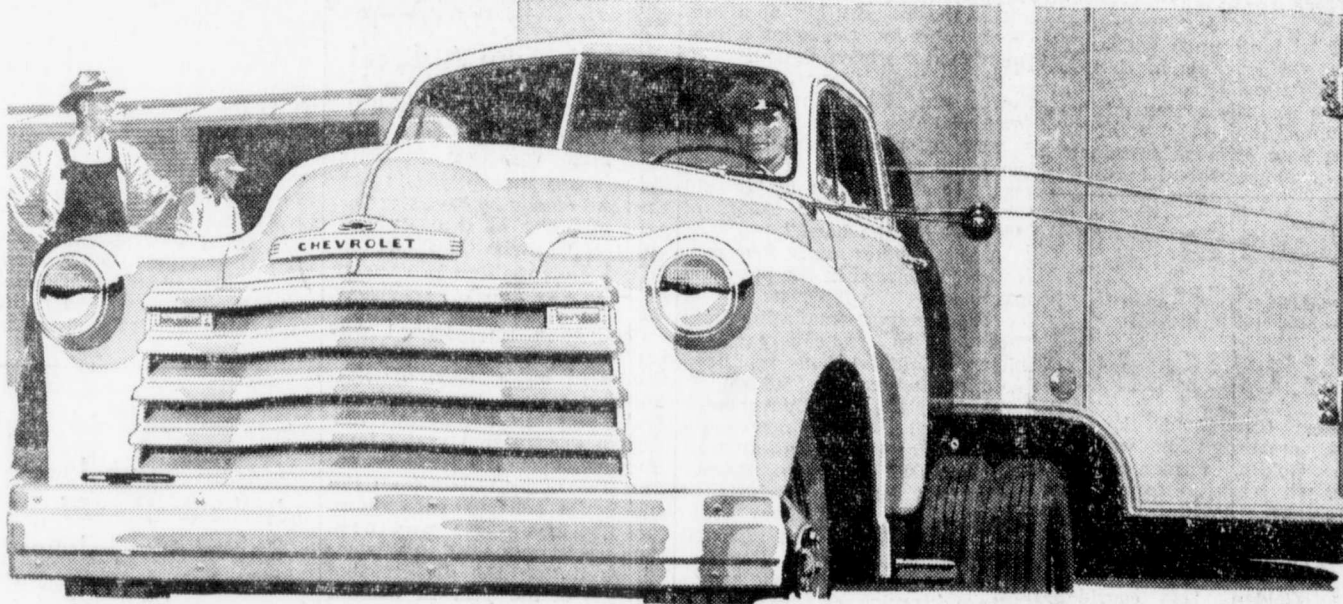

He added that pupils in grades from 1 to 6 are urged to register at respective schools during the week of September 4 to 7.

"Because of overcrowded conditions at the Cahuilla school," explained Dr. Hoff, "the board of trustees has decided that pupils in grades 4, 5 and 6, who live in the area east of Sunrise Way bounded by Ramon rd. on the north and highway 111 on the south, shall attend the Katherine Finchy school where extra class rooms are available."

Further instructions on boundaries are as follows: Pupils in Kindergarten to grade 6, who live south of Ramon rd. and west of Araby Point should attend the Cahuilla School. Pupils living east of Araby Point are to attend the Cathedral City school.

All kindergarten to grade 3 pupils who live north of Ramon rd. should attend the Frances Stevens school while grades 4, 5, and 6 shall attend the Katherine Finchy school.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Charles Stone of Long Beach and her son Richard Port of Chicago, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond Johns over the week-end.

Casual Aire To Feature New Displays

A new store and a plentiful supply of the latest in fashions for milady will feature the opening of the Casual Aire Shop in its new location, 224 N. Palm Canyon dr. on or about September 12.

Bob and Jean Morris, owners of the popular Village salon, announced that new innovations in display of merchandise will also be one of the outstanding features of the new store.

"Architectural design of the interior in order to display merchandise at its best has gone into the planning of the new location," Morris said.

The new location will afford the business establishment larger space in which to display merchandise, Morris explained, and storage facilities for reserve stocks.

Mrs. Morris announced that the same policy of price and quality will be followed in the new location and many innovations pertaining to display will be used.

The show windows at the new location will be unique and the front door which slides into a recess will permit a greater view of the interior.

"Controlled air-conditioning will be one of the main features of the new store," said Morris, "and considerable thought has been given to proper lighting of the interior."

The Casual Aire has been located at 515 N. Palm Canyon drive for the past four years.

County Employees Offered New Pension Plan

Riverside county's pension and retirement expense may be increased from $205,000 to $250,000 by January 1.

County employees will be given an opportunity to vote on a new retirement and pension proposal by supervisors this week.

The new scheme provides for the retirement of county employees at the age of 65 instead of 70.

If the proposal is voted in by county employees it would go into effect January 1, it was announced.

The change is expected to make employment more attractive with the county and reduce the number of resignations.

Supervisors voted four to one in favor of the new plan presented by County Recorder Jack Ross and County Clerk Gordon Pequegnat.

Spokesmen for the California Taxpayers Association and the County Farm Bureau approved the change.

Palomino King May Perform in Village Events

Gold Crown, billed throughout the country at fairs, horse shows and rodeos as the "King of the Palominos" will appear for the first time in California at such events.

Mr. and Mrs. Dory Hart, 524 South Santa Rosa, residents of Palm Springs for the past five years, expressed the belief that Gold Crown may appear in parades here and the annual Palm Springs Rodeo.

The Harts only live in their Village home for a few months each season, spending the rest of the time traveling eastern and mid-west horse show circuits such as rodeos, fairs, circuses, theaters and other events.

Gold Crown, a magnificently proportioned animal is acclaimed as one of the foremost high-schooled horses in the country.

He is unusually large, standing 16 and one-half hands high and weighing in excess of 1300 pounds. When performing he dances the rumba, carioca and is famous for his three-legged canter and pivot.

Seek Jobs for Disabled Vets

War veterans in various stages of disablement are eligible for on the job training under Public Law 16, the Veterans Administration announced.

The supply of these veterans for this type of training are carefully tested by VA advisement and guidance experts and their capabilities analyzed for job placement.

In no case will a veteran be referred unless he fits the needs of the employer and the requirements of the job. The VA points out it is not an employment agency, and will only refer veterans for training purposes when the right man is available.

Employers wanting information on VA training opportunities may call Prospect 4711 in Los Angeles and ask for extension 681 or 682. Training personnel from the VA will be glad to visit them and discuss placement of trainees in their firms. The recent deadline of July 25 for the majority of veterans.

Marines, Airmen May Be Numerous Visitors This Fall

Sky blue uniformed men of the U. S. Air Forces and khaki clad Marines may be frequent visitors in the Village this fall and in large numbers, too.

The Desert Journal published in Joshua carried a story this week which reported that the USAF are seriously thinking about re-activating the World War II air-base at Twentynine Palms.

Also published in the same paper was a story reported as "official" that the marine corps plans to establish an anti-aircraft station in the same area.

Summer Craft School Exhibit At 9 A. M. Today

Exhibition of children's art and craft work completed during the summer recreation program by the Palm Springs Unified School District will take place today from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Frances Stevens School.

The work was done by children of both the Caluilla and Frances Stevens schools, ranging in age from 5 to 15 years. The exhibition will consist of various articles completed by these grade school pupils consisting of model airplanes, boats, water color and tempera paintings and ceramic crafts products of various kinds.

Instructors were Mrs. Jean Coutts Anguiano, Mrs. Albert Babcock, Miss Edna LaPointe and William L. Larson, teachers during the summer recreation program which ends today.

Traffic Officer Poe Plans Vacation Here

Traffic Officer Howard Poe filed his last daily report Saturday before departing for his annual vacation.

"You'll be able to see me every day fellow" he inscribed on his report for other officers on the force to read.

"I'll be a long way from headquarters this summer at my home in Palm Springs on Indian ave. I haven't enough money to get out of town," he added facetiously.

Peterson Acting City Manager

If you have any questions pertaining to city government during the next two weeks take them up with Robert W. Peterson.

Peterson, whose regular berth with the city is that of city treasurer, had the weight of managing the city government thrown across his broad shoulders this week.

City Manager Russell Rink, who left Palm Springs over the weekend on his annual vacation, designated the city treasurer as acting city manager until September 24, when Rink expects to return.

During Rink's vacation he plans to attend the International Conference of City Managers, September 9 to 12 at Poland Springs, Maine. City council last month authorized Rink to attend the conference.

to enter education or training under PL 346—the GI Bill—does not apply to veterans eligible for training under PL 16, the VA pointed out.

New York Family Select Village As Their Home

Newcomers to Palm Springs are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Press and their children Robert and Patricia. The Press family are formerly of New York and Poughkeepsie. They came to California five years ago settling temporarily in Compton.

They have been constantly searching for ideal western climate. Frequent trips to the desert for the past few years, has convinced the family Palm Springs is the place.

The children wholeheartedly agreed. Robert and Patricia, 15 and 14 respectively have traveled most of the United States and Canada, and last year, accompanied by their parents on a tour of seven European countries, and had the rare privilege of an audience with the Pope.

Mr. Press, a former New York city builder, will with his partner Mr. Edward Norquist, Los Angeles, enter the contracting business in Palm Springs. Both Mr. and Mrs. Press are real estate brokers.

Robert and Patricia plan to attend Palm Springs High School.

Palm Desert Sunbeams By EDITH EDDY WARD

The best part of a vacation is coming home — especially when home is on the desert! It's fun to go away and meet new people and visit new places, but there's nothing like the thrill of returning to your own town and being greeted by old friends who tell you they are glad to see you back and mean it!

So much has been said about "Hawaiian hospitality," I found it was not over-rated. The real Hawaiians and the American people who have lived in the islands for some time all have that gay, friendly air that immediately puts the visitor at ease and makes him feel at home. On arriving in Honolulu, I was pleasantly surprised to be greeted by Duke Kahanamoku and his lovely wife, Nadine, with their arms full of orchid and white ginger flower leis.

THEY HAD the whole day planned for me, starting with breakfast at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, luncheon at the famous Outrigger Canoe Club, with swimming, surfboard riding and sailing during the day. We also attended a luau, put on in real Hawaiian style by the Duke's cousins. Besides the traditional roast pig, they served Lau Lau which is a package of pork, butterfish and beef, wrapped in taro top and ti leaf, and baked with the pig underground in an "imu" lined with pre-heated rocks.

THEN THERE WAS the "lomi lomi" salmon (raw fish to you and me) which is broken up and kneaded in chopped ice together with chopped fresh tomatoes and onions; baked in a moan breadfruit, which tastes something like sweet potatoes and, of course, poi—the staple dish of Hawaiians. For dessert, there was haupia (coconut pudding) and fresh pineapple, which looked like part of the table decor, but with the edible centers removed, sliced in spears and returned to the shell with the top foliage restored as a cap.

AFTER SEEING everything of interest in Honolulu, it was time to move on for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harker at Wailuku on the island of Maui. The Harkers have lived in the islands ever since their marriage, twenty-seven years ago and it is home to them. At the outbreak of World War II when the government was evacuating the women and children, Esther Harker had reservations for herself and two children to sail for the mainland, leaving her husband behind for the duration of the war. As the time drew closer and the children cried more and more at the thought of leaving their father, she became more depressed and nearly out of her mind trying to make the decision, whether to leave or stay.

SHE PRAYED for the right answer and, finally, the day before they were to sail she calmly walked in and cancelled reservations. There were many dark days after that, with air raid alarms, continuous black-out and the suspense of not knowing when there would be an invasion, but the thing that kept them going and happy through the war years was the fact that the family had stuck together and, come what may, they were ready and willing to face it together!

BEING THE HARKER'S guest in their lovely modern Hawaiian home was a real treat — and what food! Esther Harker is famous for her fresh coconut cake, which is the kind you don't eat — just inhale! She served soya steaks; fresh Hawaiian fruit salads, with papaya, mango, cheramoya and pineapple, topped with whipped cream; wild blackberry pie and guava ice cream. The problem was to keep from gaining ten pounds in a week.

SURPRISE of the week was the announcement that Don Cameron and Isabelle Western-haver were married last week in Ensenada! They have been working together in real estate and no one suspected they had marriage in mind. Don says they have had the date set for some time, which was one year from the date they first met—August 22nd. They were entertained with cocktails and dinner at the Shadow Mountain Club last Saturday by Mae Olson, who recently purchased a home in Palm Desert. With Isabelle's sunny disposition and eagerness to learn the real estate business and with Don's experience in it they should make a good team now that they have formed a partnership for life.

SADDEST NEWS of the week was the word that Jim Young had passed away following a heart attack last Sunday. Owner of the Valley Lumber and Hardware Co., Jim and his charming wife, Lorena, had many friends at Palm Desert, who feel a definite loss at his passing and whose sympathy goes out to Lorena.

LABOR DAY, September 3rd, closes the summer season at Shadow Mountain Club and all activities will be discontinued until Saturday, September 22nd, to permit the cleaning and painting of the pool, cleaning the lake, improving the playgrounds and a general renovation of the equipment and club house. Shadow Mountain Club will become a beehive of painters and workmen, readying the club for a glorious new desert season!

Shadow Mt. Club To Close Sept. 4 For Renovation

Summer season's program at Shadow Mountain Club will end Labor Day, September 3, it was announced.

The following day all department and activities at the club will be closed until September 22 to permit cleaning and painting of the swimming pool, improvement of the kiddies play area and renovation of the clubhouse and equipment.

Returns With New Son Born Aug. 23

Mrs. Fred Porter II returned to her home in Out Post Estates with a new addition to the family.

The new baby boy named Fred Eugene, III, was born in Pasadena August 23 and weighed 8 pounds stripped for action.

The new son makes three children for the Porters, counting Jennie and Patty. Father is employed by the Libott swimming pool company.

Mrs. Stanley Olson is entertaining Minneapolis relatives at present. Among the guests are: her mother, Mrs. Harry Green and husband, sister Mrs. Maude Bach and husband Alden and son Charles.

Saturday evening Mrs. Olson entertained the entire group at a dinner at the Shadow Mountain Club honoring newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Don Cameron.

Idyllwild vacationers are Mr. and Mrs. William Munchoff. They are spending 2 weeks away from the desert.

Sweden, Alaska And Down Rio Way Interesting to Villagers They Report

By Jan and George Olman

COOL THOUGHTS FOR WARM DAYS—Let's dream about attending and enjoying a cruise aboard a Moore-McCormack luxury liner!

Four special cruises are planned this year to South America's east coast — two of which will be 44 and 42 days and the others 39 days. The S.S. ARGENTINA and the S.S. BRAZIL plan to remain in Rio de Janeiro harbor during the Brazilian capital city's four day carnival which traditionally closes the pre-Lenten season on a high note of hilarity.

In each instance the ship will serve as the passengers' hotel during the stay, and an extensive program is planned. Passengers will be able to participate in the balls, parades and other affairs with which Rio sets the pace for all the world in its outburst of gaiety. You can leave New York, January 24, and return March 8th. — or you can leave February 7th and return March 20. And on these two cruises, the ship will visit besides the usual ports, Barbados, in the British West Indies; Bahia, the oldest city of Brazil; and Punta del Este, on the Uruguayan coast, one of the loveliest resorts in all South America!

HAWAII FOR ALOHA WEEK—The official celebration of this Polynesian holiday starts with the arrival of the LURLINE at Honolulu on October 17th — and ends the night of October 21st. And there's going to be a special excursion fare by air to Hawaii starting in October and ending in December — $216 round trip for a sixteen day holiday! (Regular fare is $288!)

ABOARD PRINCESS NORAH cruising ALASKAN waters — Ruth and Herman Reich are enjoying a cool and comfortable change. . . . "We are enjoying our trip immensely. This is a real change and rest. . . delightful ship. . . service, food, rooms, are excellent. We arrive in Juneau this afternoon and will take a side trip to the beautiful Mendenhall Glacier. From Skagway we will take the White Pass and Yukon R. R. over the summit, past Lake Bennett to Carcross where we will board a river steamer for an overnight trip to West Taku Arm. . . Then return to Vancouver and a short visit to Banff and Lake Louise before returning home."

COPENHAGEN IS DELIGHTFUL — (don't mind us — we're slightly prejudiced in favor of Copenhagen — and dream away with pleasurable thoughts at the mere mention of the name) —

Dr. and Mrs. George Gillam cruised from Los Angeles Harbor aboard a Scandinavian motorship the middle of July to visit the three delightful countries — Denmark, Norway, and Sweden. A letter just received from Copenhagen. "We had a wonderful, quiet voyage. . . Exactly three weeks. . . smooth sailing. . . rained when we landed at Le Havre. . . we missed the good California sunshine. Spent three days in Paris. . . then traveled on the Nord Express for 24 hours to Copenhagen. We like this place and will stay a few days before we go to Stockholm. We enjoyed the Cooq-D'Or Restaurant (our favorite) and ate like pigs. . . had to walk for two hours afterwards. Went to the New Look night club at the Palace Hotel. . . a lovely modern place, intimate, colorful and fairly good dance music. After visiting Sweden and Norway, we'll return to Copenhagen."

Cameron-Miss Westenhaver Married

Don Cameron and lovely Isabelle Westenhaver have committed the pardonable deed.

They ran off the other day, friends, all the way to Ensenada, without telling many of their friends, and while standing before a judge of that country exchanged marital vows.

Friends who have been expecting the marriage to take place most any day expressed delight and offered the happy couple their heartiest congratulations.

The popular couple, with a host of friends throughout the desert, may have whispered their intentions to a few chosen friends and they eloped or just decided that a drive down Ensenada way in old Mexico would be enjoyable.

In that Mexican resort community with Isabelle's sister, Sally O'Neil, motion picture actress standing by her side and Edmund B. Noonan her brother, standing beside Don, they exchanged marital vows before Judge Ruiz, Mr. Noonan, by the way, is an executive with the Importadora Mexican Film Distributing company.

The group then headed for Los Angeles and the home of the Seymour Chotiners where an informal reception took place honoring the new Mr. and Mrs. Donald Camerons. Only the immediate family and close friends numbering 22, were in attendance.

Don and his new bride returned to Rancho Mirage Thursday afternoon, where they intend to make their home.

Officers Return From Vacations

Home this week from annual vacations were several members of the Palm Springs Police Department. At the same time others left for the same reason.

Among them were: Officer Bob White and Mrs. White, Dale Thompson, John Herrera, Miss Ione Coble and Sgt. Bill Lux.

The Whites visited in Altoona, Pa. where they were house guests at the home of Mrs. Harry White, father of Officer White.

Thompson traveled by air to Detroit, Michigan where he accepted delivery of an automobile at the factory in that city for a local dealer here and then motored west stopping to "do a little fishing" in Wisconsin.

Miss Ione Coble, police clerk, spent her vacation at her former home in Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

Off on their vacations are Officers Bill Hecht, Howard Poe, Harvey Bryant and Warren Hockenbary. Recently returned were Sgt. Durman Ordway and Mrs. Ordway.

WOMEN IN SERVICE — Third from right is Sgt. Betty Gray of Palm Springs, stationed in New Foundland. She was a member of the WAF's winning crew in the annual St. John's Regatta staged in that country. The Sergeant is stationed at Peppercell with the U. S. Northeast Command.

Anthony Burke to Become Benedict Here In October

The desert's most eligible bachelor for years will become a benedict come next October.

Friends of Anthony (Tony) Burke were pleased to hear this week that he will exchange vows with Miss Anne Robert of Poughkeepsie, New York this Fall. The marriage is scheduled for Palm Springs but the exact day was not announced.

Miss Roberts is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bertrand E. Roberts of Poughkeepsie. She is the granddaughter of Dr. William Edwards Huntington, a former president of Boston University and she attended Briarcliff College.

Further details are not known except that the couple plan to make their home in the Village.

Burke is presently assisting in the development of Thunderbird Ranch and Country Club.

spent her vacation at her former home in Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

Off on their vacations are Officers Bill Hecht, Howard Poe, Harvey Bryant and Warren Hockenbary. Recently returned were Sgt. Durman Ordway and Mrs. Ordway.

"It's Better at Home" Declares Hillstrand

Gasoline and oil merchant Fred Hillstrand, is back at his place of business at 395 N. Palm Canyon dr. He said that he and his wife vacationed for two weeks at Convict Lake in the Sierra mountains and spent sometime in Yosemite Park.

"It was nice up there," he said, "but my wife and I found out it's so good to get back home."

Summering at Estes Park are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reid. Pat and Harry will be back in the Village when the season gets in full swing.

Romance Here Ends In Marital Vows In San Marino

Romance which had its first beginning in Palm Springs almost three years ago ended in marriage in San Marino Saturday.

Well known in Palm Springs, Barbara Ellen Knowles was married to Alger Chaney with Rev. Charles A. Shreve, a long time friend of the bride's family, officiating in St. Edmund's Episcopal Church, San Marino.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Raymond Vincent Knowles of Claremont, formerly of San Francisco and frequent guests in Palm Springs during winter seasons for many years past.

The mother is the sister of Miriam Clancy of Vista de Chino.

The bridegroom is the son of Henry F. Chaney of Portland, Ore. and Mrs. D. Dwight Douglas of Grosse Pointe, Mich.

Close friends and relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony and attended the reception at the Pool Terrace of the Huntington in Pasadena.

Present at the wedding were the bridegroom's parents, Harry J. Earl, the bride's cousin from Grosse Pointe Farms gave her away; Mrs. Harry H. Kem Jr. of Deer Island, Ore., attended the bride.

Best man was William E. Weiss Jr. of Oyster Bay, Long Island.

Ushers were David Dwight Douglas Jr., Mr. Kem, Dixon B.

Helen Thompson sends word from her former home at Neenah, Wisconsin that she is enjoying her vacation with relatives and friends. Helen is librarian at the Frances Stevens school and will be in the Village the first part of September.

Livingstone, Portland; George M. Wilhelm of Eureka, and Raymond V. Knowles Jr.

Among the guest present was Miss Martha McCarn, of San Francisco, daughter of Mrs. Louise McCarn.

El Gaucho Room Open For Season

Friday midnight, with a large crowd expected to be in attendance, the El Gaucho Room at the Del Tahquitz hotel will be opened for the season.

Mrs. Gene Torgan, manager of the hostelry announced that a grand opening of the hotel and its facilities will take place later during the season.

"We just want to be the first to open our cocktail lounge for the 1950-51 winter season in Palm Springs," she announced, "and many Villagers have already indicated that they will be on hand to mark the opening of the El Gaucho Room under our new management."

Vacation Cut Short

By Father's Death

Word that her father had died in Los Angeles Aug. 14, caused Mrs. Charles Mathews and her husband to cut their summer vacation short in order to attend final rites held in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Mathews father, Rev. Morgan Wood, retired, had been a pastor at several mid-west churches during his life time. He was pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church in Cleveland for a number of years.

The minister was a graduate of Yale and he received his theological degree from the Mount Union College.

In addition to Mrs. Mathews, he is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Alcott and Mrs. Helen Long, both of Cleveland. Burial was in the Mt. Vernon cemetery, Altadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathews learned of Rev. Wood's death at Glacier Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Brown are spending some time at Balboa Beach. Al is employed at Muroc and commutes every week-end to see his wife Laura and to be in his favorite place Palm Springs.

Urges Mass Inoculation

Mass immunization against diseases prevalent during natural and war-caused disasters is advocated as a civil defense precaution by Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, state director of civil defense.

"Local civil defense medical divisions in many areas of the state have instituted successful mass immunization programs," he said.

"Santa Cruz did an outstanding job in mass immunization of school children against tetanus. In orange county, a three months mass immunization program is now in progress, offering immunization of the child and adult population against whooping cough, smallpox, typhoid fever, diphtheria and tetanus."

General Robertson's advocacy of the precautionary measure was voiced Monday during the weekly state-wide broadcast sponsored by the California Office of Civil Defense.

Deputy Director Orville R. Caldwell and John F. Rolfe, American Red Cross state relations representative, who also participated in the broadcast, joined in General Robertson's recommendation.

"Both nurses' aides and those who have taken Red Cross home nursing courses can make an immediate contribution to civil defense by encouraging family members, especially children, and neighbors to become immunized against those diseases for which there is protection," Caldwell declared.

Rolfe added, "Tetanus immunization should be particularly stressed as a protection in case of injury."

State Finances

341 Homes For County Veterans

Three hundred forty-one Riverside county war veterans financed the construction of their homes with the aid of the California Department of Veterans' Affairs in 1950-51.

The total cost of the homes financed during the 12 month period ending June 30, amounted to $2,299,320. This compares with 256 homes financed through the same medium during the fiscal year of 1949-50 for a cost of $1,666,724, figures released by that state government agency revealed.

A total of 28,726 veterans in 57 California counties are presently paying for their homes in this matter at a total cost of $187,819,536 financed during June 30 as compared to 23,035 homes costing $142,792,305 for the same period last year.

Awakes, Finds Chair Blazing

Frank LeGro, 354 Stevens rd. asleep in a chair at his home had a hot awakening a few minutes past midnight Saturday.

Fire Department records revealed that LeGro had fallen asleep in a chair while smoking a cigarette. The fire awakened LeGro but he was unable to extinguish the flames that enveloped the chair.

Damages to the chair, fire reported, amounted to approximately $50. The fire call was answered at 12:02 a. m. Sunday.

Flavin Back On Korean Battle Line

Mrs. Barbara Flavin, 607 Camino Real, mother of Pvt. Robert L. Flavin, received word from her son, stationed in Korea, that he is back on the fighting line.

Earlier this week the public relations department of the First Cavalry Division issued a report that Pvt. Flavin was stationed in Munsan, Korea, as a member of the advance United Nations advance peace camp's honor guard.

Young Flavin, son of the late Mike Flavin, who was well known in the Village, had served as a member of the honor guard, "but" he wrote his mother, "that camp has been abandoned now."

"At the time he wrote the letter," Mrs. Flavin said, "Robert had rejoined his company and was now on patrol duty at the front."

Prior to his selection as a member of the honor guard at Munsan, Flavin had spent two months on the fighting line. Pvt. Flavin graduated from Palm Springs high school with the class of 1948 and later entered Chaffey College where he started pre-medical studies. He did not complete his college training and returned to Palm Springs to become a carpenter.

State Collected $146,205,320 on Vehicle Fuel Sales

Californians, in the last fiscal year, paid taxes on 3,589,878,500 gallons of gasoline, butane and propane—enough fuel for three coast-to-coast round trips by each of California's four million passenger cars, William G. Bonelli, Fourth District Member of the State Board of Equalization, announced today.

These taxes contributed $146,205,320 for building and maintaining California's city streets and its more than 80,000 miles of county roads and state highways. Total tax collections on gasoline and other high-test motor fuel sold during the 1950-51 fiscal year amounted to $161,544,808, but $15,339,488 of that amount was refunded by Controller Thomas H. Kuchel to persons who bought such fuels for nonhighway use.

Bonelli stated that Californians are virtually living on wheels. Not only did they buy 3.6 billion gallons of motor fuel last year, but they spent more than three billion dollars for the purchase, maintenance and operation of their motor vehicles.

'Nelson's For Men' Opens For Business

"Nelson's For Men" in The Center will open its doors for the 1950-51 season tomorrow.

Isadore Nelson, proprietor, who made the announcement said that he has just returned from an extensive buying tour of eastern markets.

"The very latest in colors, fabrics and styles have been ordered," Nelson announced.

The haberdashery under the management of Nelson for the first time last season, became one of the most popular shopping spots in the Village for men seeking the latest in styles and fabrics.

City Services Costs in Village 2nd in County

Operating cost of the city government here ranked second in the county, above that of Corona, where the population, according to census records, is considerably higher than recorded for Palm Springs.

The figures released by the California Taxpayers Association covered comparative periods for the fiscal years of 1948-49 and 1949-50.

Government cost payments by cities in this county showed that Palm Springs paid $528,120 for various services to its citizens during the fiscal year of 1949-50 than did Corona with payment $484,916 for the same period. This figure includes payment of $28,057 for debt services not paid by Palm Springs. Riverside, for the same services paid out $2,458,202.

The comparative figures released for the fiscal years of 1948-49 and 1949-50 show payments for general government expense, protection to persons and property, street repair, recreation, (Palm Springs spent $55,069 in this department) health and sanitation and miscellaneous payments, ($60,608 for this item).

Comparative table of expenditures prepared by the tax association is as follows:

Teenage Drivers Lectured At Jail

Three teenagers failed to outspeed a police car in a wild chase north on Indian ave. Saturday night.

Brought to the Palm Springs Police station two were found to be under the influence of liquor. All three received a severe lecture and later released. However, they were ordered to appear Sunday morning with their parents when arresting officers will determine what charges, if any, are to be filed against the trio.

W. R Arlo Admits Arson Charges in San Bernardino

In custody since May 12, William Arlo Butler who gave police his address as Palm Springs admitted setting fire to his wife's Yucaipa home and firing on Constable Roscoe Deaton. Brought before Superior Judge

Archie D. Mitchell, in San Bernardino, the Palm Springs man pleaded guilty to arson and assault with a deadly weapon. A burglary charge will be disposed of when Butler comes up for his probation hearing Sept. 21.

Butler was arrested the night of May 12 after the living room and two bedrooms of the Yucaipa house were seriously damaged by flames. While he was fleeing in his car, Butler was ordered by Deaton to stop.

Library Notes

Among the newly published books received by the Library we have selected the following this week.

Ark of Empire, by Idwal Jones. The story of Montgomery Block built by Henry W. Halleck in 1853, the man who later became General-in-Chief of the Union Army under President Lincoln. Originally, it was the place where the famous land-title cases arising from the American occupation of Spanish California were transacted; in later years the Block was the place where one rubbed elbows with Robert Louis Stevenson, Ambrose Bierce, and Jack London. After the earthquake and fire of 1906, it became a sort of "open shirt" Algonquin, the center of a unique bohemia that contributed to the colorful and distinctive life of San Francisco.

Domination and Powers, by George Santayana. This is Santayana's great discourse on politics, the book on which Santayana has been a study for many years. It is a work of men's relationship to one another—in the family, in society, in the state and in that group of states and societies that make the world. His political theory is, as the title suggests, away from Liberalism of which he is sceptical and toward a benevolent Imperialism.

The Best American Short Stories of 1951, edited by Martha Foley. A collection of stories selected from hundreds of magazines, big and little, simple and sophisticated, from all over the United States. Represented are some of the well-known authors of today and possibly some of tomorrow.

Night At The Vulcan, by Ngalo Marsh. A stage struck girl from New Zealand goes to London to get a job in the theatre. Down to her last shilling she accepts a job as dresser for one of the stars and finds that the lives of the stars behind the curtains is far more dramatic than any performance on stage. Which of these people meet a violent death and who are the murderers is the question.

Tragedy Trail, by Max Brand. Blondy Graem, a lean-ribbed adventurer, has been at it for years but when he finally strikes gold, LaSalle and his bandits lay him low with three gaping bullet wounds. Healed again,

$229,291 Cash For action at Race Track

Phat Graettinger, editor of the Desert Sun, vacationing down at Laguna Beach and who knows a thing or two about horses, the kind that race from barrier to barrier, may not believe this story.

State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel reports that California's treasury was enhanced, during the 12-month period ending June 30, by $229,291 in unclaimed pari-mutuel tickets.

Furthermore, Kuchel reports, that Del Mar, where the bangs are presently running, contributed $1,040,902 in pari-mutuel fees for the same period. Laguna isn't far from Del Mar so there is an even chance the state's take may be a little larger next year. But there isn't any likelihood that Phat will forget to turn in those expense money tickets for the one or two winning tickets he is lucky enough to hold.

Horse racing pari-mutuel fees brought $14,765,180 into the state treasury during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1951, according to Kuchel. This was $482,588 more than the total for the preceding year.

Kuchel said that Hollywood Park was the largest contributor with a total of $6,117,247. The other tracks were listed as follows:

Santa Anita, $4,256,776; Bay Meadows, $2,506,518; Del Mar, $1,040,902; Golden Gate Fields, $83,130; various associations, state, county and district fairs, $760,607.

Blondy hits the trail once more, determined to settle the score.

Memories And Portraits, by Ivan Bunin. Word portraits of some literary and artistic figures of Russia whom the author knew personally. Included are Gorki, Chekov, Tolstoy, Chaliapin and Rachmaninov.

The Iron Mistress, by Paul I. Wellman. A novel based on the turbulent career of James Bowie, a fabulous and nearly forgotten hero of the American frontier. Frontiersman, fortune hunter, soldier, duelist-lord among men and servant of women—this was James Bowie. He was, too, one of the doomed defenders of the Alamo, a martyr in the selfless cause of patriotism.

Mrs. Laura Greenleaf returned from a two month trip to Chicago where she visited her parents. Mrs. Greenleaf drove east with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyers also of Rancho Mirage.

Mrs. Greenleaf was recently appointed clerk at the Rancho Mirage Post Office and assumes that position on September 15th.
